Ambach - Robust quality, indestructible passion

We at Ambach are delighted to announce that we've joined CEDA as partners and are looking forward to connecting to the membership.

We have been designing and manufacturing professional kitchens for over 65 years, combining our vast experience in appliances and craftsmanship to give you beautiful, reliable and high performance kitchen.

We serve the hospitality industry around the globe, putting our customers at the heart of everything we do. Our aim is to help improve profitability through the performance, value and extended life of your kitchen.

Our qualified team of highly creative engineers and our international network of selected partners are committed to providing you with a personal service, wherever you are in the world. We work with you to create your perfect kitchen, tailored to your needs, personality and style.
